EPEC General Assembly

Monday
13:30-14:20

The Europlanet Early Career (EPEC) network is the official entity representing early careers in the Europlanet Society. Early Careers from all over the world are encouraged to participate in the EPEC assembly organized during EPSC! At this assembly, there will be an introduction to how EPEC is organized, an update on the past year's activities, an overview of all early career related events at the conference and the latest news. Come and meet the team and ask your questions!

ScienceFlash

Tuesday
18:15-19:00

During the Science Flash, early-career scientists have three-minutes to convey their work in an unconventional, engaging way. Each presenter may use up to one prop and up to three figures - but no text allowed! This year's main prize is a free registration to next year's EPSC! But fear not, there are also three "one-of-a-kind" Science Flash 2024 mugs for the top three presentations. To register as a speaker, send an email with your name, institution and a three-image pdf to noah.jaeggi@virginia.edu (Deadline: high noon, Tuesday Sep. 9).

Career Development Panel

Thursday
13:00-14:20

How can we shape our career in planetary sciences and face the current challenges in academia and beyond? How can different paths lead to landing a successful and fulfilling role? EPEC has gathered four accomplished members of the Europlanet Community to talk about their experiences, each carving a distinct path through science that has led them to where they are today. Join us for a lively discussion with our four panel members and learn from the different experiences of our community.

The social event is a great opportunity to meet up with your fellow early career researchers and students, and expand your network. The door of this cozy biergarten opens at 19:30 with drinks (alcoholic/non-alcoholic) and snacks (vegan/vegetarian options available) that can be purchased at the bar. No registration is required, just come and have a great time!
